

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to recommend Mr. Lois Brun, who worked at Boombyte Games GmbH as a Game Programmer on our Mobile MMO FPS project Tactical Strike. Throughout his time with us, Lois demonstrated not only solid technical ability but also a set of professional qualities that made him a highly valuable member of our team.

One of Lois' greatest strengths is his stability and long-term commitment. In a demanding live production environment, he consistently delivered well-structured, clear, and well-documented code, making collaboration easier and significantly contributing to the overall maintainability of the project. His attention to code clarity helped ensure that the systems we built remained robust and sustainable as the project evolved.

In addition to his technical work, Lois played an active role in team discussions and organizational decisions. He always showed a strong willingness to participate in planning, provide constructive feedback, and contribute ideas not only from a technical standpoint but also with a good sense for game design and user experience. His proactive attitude and clear communication consistently helped align the team and keep us focused on making the project succeed.

Lois has been a reliable, collaborative, and thoughtful team member, and I am confident he will bring the same qualities to any future opportunity. Should you require any further information, please feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

N. ÖZGÜR SONER
